Ohio National Guard receives four Lakota helicopters

By Bill Pierce
Ohio Adjutant General's Department Public Affairs

COLUMBUS, Ohio – The Ohio Army National Guard recently added four UH-72A Lakota light utility helicopters to its aerial support inventory this past December.

Ohio has one of 33 units in the National Guard that is a recipient of the new helicopters, which are attached to Detachment 1, Company D, 1-376th Aviation Regiment based at the OHANG's Army aviation Support Facility No. 2, located at the Akron-Canton Airport.

Two UH-72A Lakota helicopters fly in close formation. The Lakota is the US Army's newest helicopter and is flown in medical evacuation, reconnaissance and VIP configurations.

"Ohio hasn't had medical evacuation capability since the late 90s. We now have it available for the citizens of Ohio," said Col. Stuart Driesbach, state aviation officer for the Ohio Army National Guard. "The primary focus of the Lakotas will be disaster response, to include medical evacuation and personnel recovery."

The UH-72A Lakota offers a modern glass night vision goggle-compatible cockpit with space for two litters and a medical hoist. It can carry up to six passengers and a crew of two. When performing a mission, the Lakota's cabin will include one crew chief and one medical attendant. The crew chief will be qualified to operate the rescue hoist and other aircraft equipment specifically designed for these disaster response missions. During personnel recovery missions, the stretchers are removed, making room for eight total troops.

Ohio Army National Guard pilots will attend one of two different training schools to learn how to operate the UH-72A Lakota. The two-week course is for seasoned aviators, while the six-week course is for beginning aviators. Both courses are conducted at Fort Indiantown Gap, Pa.

A few OHANG pilots have already attended the training and are qualified, said Driesbach.

"However, because of training and deployments, we will not be fully mission-capable for another year or so," said Driesbach. "Pilots who are presently deployed overseas supporting OEF will attend the training upon their return." The unit is scheduled to be fully mission-capable by March, 2013.

The four new Lakotas will be replacing the two OH-58 Kiowa security and support helicopters which have belonged to the Ohio National Guard for about six years. The OH-58s will be going to Fort Rucker, Ala. to become training aircraft for future Army aviators.

Space Available Travel: A Weighty Failure

It looks like National Guardsmen, retired Guardsmen, their families and their Reserve counterparts will not be seeing the world via space-available travel.

An amendment to the National Defense Authorization Act for 2013 that would have given that benefit to those groups, as well as retirees, just as it is to active-component members and their families, was blocked from reaching a floor vote last week by the House Rules Committee.

Apparently, the Defense Department has determined that adding these new passengers would have constituted an expense, because the weight of the additional flyers would have resulted in an expense to the Air Force. By statute, the space-available program cannot generate cost to the service.

The Defense Department's argument, backed by the support of some veterans service organizations, ruled the day in the committee vote.

This amendment was backed strongly by NGAUS and losing in this fashion raised the hackles of Pete Duffy, the NGAUS acting legislative director.

"This is novel science," he said, noting that, apparently, the active-component passengers have no weight. It seems, he said, that the active component simply does not want to share one of its perks with its brothers-in-arms in the reserve components.

Going paperless with the TRICARE Retiree Dental Program

Enrollees in the TRICARE Retiree Dental Program (TRDP) can now sign up for paperless Explanation of Benefits (EOB) statements. Instead of mailing you a paper EOB, Delta Dental will send an email alert whenever a new statement becomes available—and you can access and view your EOBs online through the self-service Consumer Toolkit®, at your convenience.

To begin, simply log onto the Consumer Toolkit® at ddfptoolkits.com/ipWeb/appmanager/ct/desktop, then select the "Go Paperless" option. Enrollees who have not yet registered to use the Consumer Toolkit® can visit the "Current Enrollee" section of the website at trdp.org/enr/index.html, select "Manage Your Benefits Online" at the top right-hand side of the page, and follow the instructions to register as a new user; then, all you have to do is log onto the toolkit using your new username and password, and select the "Go Paperless" option. Once you receive an email notification that a claim has been processed, you just click on the link in the email and log onto the Consumer Toolkit® to view your latest EOB.

If you are a wartime veteran older than 65, are no longer able to work, and are living on limited income, you may qualify for the Veterans Disability Pension.

Here is how it works

If your annual income is less than one of these limits set by the VA, you may qualify for the difference :

If you have no dependents - $10,929

If you have a spouse or child - $14,313 (for each additional child add $1,866 to the limit)

If you are housebound and have no dependents - $13,356

If you are housebound and have one dependent - $16,740

If you need daily aid and attendance and have no dependents - $18,243

If you need daily aid and attendance and have one dependent - $21,615

Two veterans married to each other - $14,313

If qualified, the VA may pay the difference between the above limit and your annual income.

You may be eligible for the Veterans Disability Pension if you meet these four requirements:

1. You weren't dishonorably discharged.
2. You served for at least 90 days on active duty, and at least one of those days was during wartime.
3. You are permanently and totally disabled OR are age 65 or older.
4. Your income is below an annual limit set by VA.

How to apply

To apply, fill out VA Form 21-526 and submit to your VA regional office. If you have copies of your medical and dependency records, attach them to the VA form.

You can also apply online through the VONAPP website.

For more information called 1-800-827-1000.

Requesting copies of military records

If you are a veteran or next-of-kin of a deceased veteran, you can request copies of records from the National Personnel Records Center (NPRC) online via <http://www.archives.gov/veterans/military-service-records/> or by calling (toll free) 1-866-272-6272.

All requesters should visit the NPRC website at <http://www.archives.gov/st-louis/military-personnel/index.html> for information about accessing military service records and other related information.

Veterans Retraining Assistance Program

The Ohio Department of Veterans Services wants everyone in our Ohio Veterans Community to be aware of a major program announced recently by the VA.

A major component of the VOW to Hire Heroes Act of 2011 is the Veterans Retraining Assistance Program (VRAP) for unemployed veterans who are 35 to 60 years old. It offers up to 12 months of job training assistance under the Montgomery G.I. Bill - Active Duty program at the rate of $1,473 per month. The program begins July 1, but began accepting applications for job training May 15.

SUPPORT TO ORGANIZATIONS AND SPECIAL EVENTS

The Ohio National Guard is a proud member of communities throughout Ohio in which our Soldiers and Airmen serve. Through an active community relations program, the Ohio National Guard demonstrates it is a good neighbor and community partner by providing support in four basic areas: Non-Aviation, Military Aerial, Air Force Flyovers, and Speaker Requests.

The Ohio National Guard will make every effort to provide support for all qualifying events, but event organizers should be aware that support may not be available due to training requirements, manning, and current/future deployments. Fewer than 90 day's notice also greatly reduces the chance that support will be available.
