371st Sustainment Brigade transfers authority at Camp Arifjan

Story and photos by Staff Sgt. Kimberly Hill
371st Sustainment Brigade Public Affairs

CAMP ARIFJAN, Kuwait (02/28/14) — The 371st Sustainment Brigade transferred authority of support operations in Southwest Asia to the 108th Sustainment Brigade during a Feb. 18, 2014, ceremony here.

“I have to say how proud I am of a group of Soldiers and leaders who helped foster an atmosphere and a culture of success,” said Col. Gregory W. Robinette, a Bowling Green, Ohio, native, and the commander of the 371st Sus. Bde.

The transfer of authority process began when the 108th Sus. Bde., an Illinois National Guard unit based out of Chicago, arrived here in the beginning of February to replace the 371st Sus. Bde. Based out of Springfield, Ohio, the 371st Sus. Bde. had been in charge of support operations since June 2013.

“I’m here today a better commander, a better officer and a better Soldier because of the members of the 371st Special Troops Battalion, 371st Sus. Bde.,” said Lt. Col. Mark A. Raaker, a Pataskala, Ohio, native, and the commander of the 371st STB.

The Ohio Army National Guard brigade was responsible for support operations in Southwest Asia, a region that includes eight countries with subordinate units operating throughout the area, said Col. Thomas E. Haidet, a Westerville, Ohio, native, and the deputy commander of the 371st Sus. Bde.

The Soldiers of the 108th Sus. Bde. shadowed their 371st Sus. Bde. counterparts for two weeks to learn their daily tasks and responsibilities, to include logistical, administrative and operational support during the deployment.

“The shadowing was helpful, I’ve never worked in a joint visitor’s bureau before this deployment and it was an eye-opening experience,” said Capt. Michael Davidson, a Park Forest, Ill., native, and the joint visitor’s bureau officer-in-charge with the 108th Sus. Bde.

The 371st Sus. Bde. has deployed in support of World War I and World War II, as well as Operation Iraqi Freedom and Operation Enduring Freedom. The brigade’s most recent deployment to Kuwait marks its third overseas deployment in the past 10 years.

“At our peak, the 371st Sus. Bde. had Soldiers executing operations in eight countries, at sea and at every port in the theater, and while executing those missions, we stood ready to support a number of contingency missions,” Robinette said. “So be proud of what you’ve accomplished and when you go home, proudly tell your stories to your Families, friends and your communities.”

Col. Gregory W. Robinette (right), 371st Sustainment Brigade commander and a Bowling Green, Ohio, native, and Command Sgt. Maj. Scott M. Barga, 371st Sustainment Brigade command sergeant major and a Versailles, Ohio, native, case the brigade colors during a transfer of authority ceremony on Feb. 18, 2014, at Camp Arifjan, Kuwait. The 371st Sus. Bde., based out of Springfield, Ohio, was deployed for nine months to Camp Arifjan in support of Operation Enduring Freedom. (Staff Sgt. Kimberly Hill, ONG)

Specially adapted housing grants available for wounded warriors and severely disabled Veterans

Curtis L. Coy

Deputy Under Secretary for Economic Opportunity, Veterans Benefits Administration
 U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs

Are you a Veteran with a severe service-connected disability that affects your mobility? Do you know someone who is? If you answered "Yes" to either question, then you or someone you know may be eligible for the Specially Adapted Housing (SAH) grant program that is administered by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). The SAH program helps certain severely-disabled Veterans and Service members purchase or construct an adapted home, or modify an existing home, to create a barrier-free living environment. VA offers two grant programs: the Specially Adapted Housing (SAH) grant and the Special Housing Adaptation (SHA) grant.

The SAH grant can be used to purchase or modify a home so that it provides a barrier-free living environment that affords Veterans a higher level of independent living. Veterans and Service members with certain service-connected disabilities may be entitled to a grant up to the current maximum of $67,555.

The SHA grant can be used to increase the mobility of eligible Veterans and Service members throughout their home. Veterans and Servicemembers with specific service-connected disabilities may be entitled to this type of grant, up to the current maximum of $13,511.

In addition to these two grant types, a temporary residential grant may be available to SAH/SHA eligible Veterans and Service members who are or will be temporarily residing in a home owned by a family member. The maximum amount available to adapt a family member's home for the SAH grant is $29,657 and for the SHA grant it is $5,295. All grant amounts are indexed annually based on cost of construction, and the grant amounts will never decrease.

VA has staff located nationwide to assist individuals in applying for and receiving these grants. You can find more detailed information about qualifying disabilities here: <http://benefits.va.gov/homeloans/adaptedhousing.asp> <<http://benefits.va.gov/homeloans/adaptedhousing.asp>>, and you can find contact information for an SAH Agent in your area here: http://www.benefits.va.gov/HOMELOANS/contact_agents.asp <http://www.benefits.va.gov/HOMELOANS/contact_agents.asp>.

Each Veteran's housing/living needs are as unique as his or her physical disabilities. The SAH program provides hands-on, personalized, customized service to severely-disabled Veterans seeking home adaptations.

If you have any questions, please email sahinfo.vbaco@va.gov <<mailto:vbaco@va.gov>>.

DID YOU KNOW?

Brig. Gen. Wilma Vaught, USAF retired, was the driving force behind the establishment of the Women in Military Service for America Memorial Building in Arlington Cemetery, which opened in 1997. The memorial, standing at the main gateway to Arlington National Cemetery, is the first major memorial to honor the nearly two million women who have served in our nation's armed forces. It stands as a place where the American people and visitors from around the world can learn of the contributions that thousands of American women have made to the military and to their country.

Veteran ID cards availability, by county

Sharon Gingerich
Geauga County Recorder's Office

In Ohio, the county recorder's office is responsible for maintaining Veterans' military service discharge records. These records are used by Veterans to prove their eligibility for certain benefits their military service has earned. Instead of carrying around the paperwork, the Veteran will now be able to present a personal photo ID card.

In order for a Veteran to receive the photo ID card, they will have to record their ORIGINAL military discharge paperwork with the county recorder's office and show an accepted form of photo identification (see below). We will take the picture and print the ID card while you wait.

For more information, refer to the January issue of the Ohio National Guard Alumni newsletter. Below is the updated list of counties that offer Veteran ID cards.

Coshocton County

M-F; 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Cuyahoga County

Celebrating African-American/Black History Month

U.S. Rep. Joyce Beatty (left) receives an Ohio National Guard commemorative print from Maj. Gen. Deborah A. Ashenhurst, Ohio adjutant general, following the congresswoman's address as part of an African-American/Black History Month program on Feb. 21, 2014, at the Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler Armory in Columbus, Ohio. Beatty spoke of her modest upbringing, later becoming a successful business owner and public servant, and stressed that organizational diversity is best exemplified in institutions like the military, where people of differing backgrounds work together toward achieving common goals.
