

269TH COMBAT COMMUNICATIONS SQUADRON (CBCS)

Mission Statement

To command, organize, equip, train and administer assigned expeditionary cyberspace engineering installation and combat communication forces in support of state and federal emergencies and contingency operations.

Command

Lt. Col. Bonnie Gamary, commander
Chief Master Sgt. James Banks, senior enlisted leader

Location

Springfield, Ohio

KEY ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- The 269th Combat Communications Squadron (CBCS) supported CORONA 2016 and the USAF Hangar 4 opening, where they provided communications support for Air Force Research Laboratory (AFRL) and first responders with their Joint Interoperability Site Communications Capability and Radio Frequency assets
- The 269th CBCS participated in the Tech Warrior Exercise which supported Air Force Special Operations Command and AFRL real world warfighter technology testing. The unit led efforts to build and manage communications networks for the Joint Task Force Shield in support of the Republican National Convention in Cleveland

AWARDS/RECOGNITION

- Master Sgt. Matthew Dill from the 269th CBCS was selected as the state's Senior Noncommissioned Officer of the Year

COMMUNITY RELATIONS EVENTS

- Participated in multiple volunteer efforts throughout the local community such as the Visit a Veteran program and Memorial Day events at the Dayton Veterans Affairs hospital, as well as multiple 5 Minutes for Life events at local schools within the Dayton area

Deployments

- Along with 220th Engineering Installation Squadron and 251st Cyberspace Engineering Installation Group supported Operations Inherent Resolve and Freedom's Sentinel, with additional members deployed in support of Joint Task Force-Horn of Africa to work alongside Special Operations Forces