VOLUME 4, EDITION 7 – JULY 2, 2012

Air Force sends home C-27J cargo planes

By Marcus Weisgerber - Air Force Times Staff Writer

Jun 20, 2012 – The two C-27J cargo planes deployed to Afghanistan have been shuttling supplies and troops all across the country for the last 11 months, but their work is being cut short. As it prepares to cancel the program, the Air Force has withdrawn the two aircraft, replacing them with larger C-130s and contracted airlift, which service officials say will pick up the slack. The decision to bring the aircraft back to the U.S. comes as Congress debates whether to accept an Air Force recommendation to cancel future C-27J purchases and mothball the existing aircraft.

This week, the only two Alenia Aermacchi C-27J aircraft in Afghanistan — which are being operated by the Maryland Air National Guard — left the country and will head back to the United States, an Air Force spokeswoman confirmed Wednesday. Originally, C-27J aircraft were supposed to remain in theater through 2014, but the Air Force decided to bring all of the aircraft back to the U.S. before the end of July after it submitted its 2013 budget proposal, which recommends terminating the program. L-3 Communications, which has maintained the aircraft in Afghanistan, is shutting down its operations in the country and is having its equipment withdrawn as well, an Air Force official said.

The Air Force decided to bring the aircraft back to the U.S. ahead of schedule because the maintenance contract with L-3 will expire this summer, the service official said. Keeping the aircraft in theater would mean spending an additional $20 million to $25 million in maintenance costs, the official said. The Ohio and Maryland Air National Guard have operated the C-27J out of Kandahar Airfield in Afghanistan since July 2011. In that time, the 702nd Expeditionary Airlift Squadron has flown the two aircraft on 3,200 missions, moved 1,400 tons of cargo, transported 25,000 passengers and executed 71 air-drops, according to Air Force data.

What happens next to the Air Force's 21 C-27J aircraft has not been settled. The service's proposal to cancel the program has been questioned by lawmakers and the Air National Guard, the operator of all of the aircraft. Army officials have also voiced opposition since the aircraft's primary mission is to supply ground troops. The Air Force has argued that defense budget pressures influenced its decision to end the program. That position has been questioned by the Guard and lawmakers. Legislation under consideration in the House and Senate has recommended freezing Air Force plans to retire C-27J and other Air Force aircraft.

STEPS TO SUCCESS

There is no one right way to succeed in business. You don't have to be great to start, but you have to start to be great. It is a long and possibly expensive journey, but with perseverance and guidance, you can make it happen. A typical pathway to take during your start-up process is to follow these steps.

1. Prepare a written outline of your idea.

2. Establish your business structure. A business must be formed within some kind of legal framework. The law insists on it. Finding the correct legal form of doing business may be a challenging process, and each legal structure will affect the way you file your taxes. You will also need to register your business within your state. A Small Business Development Center can assist you with state registration forms. To learn more about legal structure and business tax concerns, go to <http://www.irs.gov/businesses/small/article/0%2C%2Cid%3D98359%2C00.html>.

3. Prepare a business plan. This is a complex process that will become the blueprint of how you will run your business, market your business, and determine the funding requirements and viability of your new business. You can find everything you need to put together a business plan at <http://www.vetbiz.gov/library/Busplan.pdf>.

4. Have a business counselor review your business plan. The Association of Small Business Development Centers offer free consulting and low cost training to help new entrepreneurs realize their dream of business ownership, and to assist existing businesses to remain competitive in the complex marketplace of an ever-changing global economy. To find the nearest SBDC to you, click on the following link: <http://www.asbdc-us.org/>.

5. Implement the business plan The Small Business Administration's (SBA) website has information on starting a business at www.sba.gov.

6. Register your veteran-owned small business on the Vendor Information Pages (VIP) database (www.vetbiz.gov).

Did you know?

The military phonetic alphabet was first introduced in 1913. Almost every word chosen to represent these letters have changed since then. Changes are by international agreement. The current phonetic alphabet was adopted in 1957. Of the 26 letters, only two have stayed the same through the five revisions. Can you name them? (Answer on page 4)

SUPPORT TO ORGANIZATIONS AND SPECIAL EVENTS

The Ohio National Guard is a proud member of communities throughout Ohio in which our Soldiers and Airmen serve. Through an active community relations program, the Ohio National Guard demonstrates it is a good neighbor and community partner by providing support in four basic areas: Non-Aviation, Military Aerial, Air Force Flyovers, and Speaker Requests.

The Ohio National Guard will make every effort to provide support for all qualifying events, but event organizers should be aware that support may not be available due to training requirements, manning, and current/future deployments. Fewer than 90 days' notice also greatly reduces the chance that support will be available.
