Free health care services this weekend in Clinton County

COLUMBUS, Ohio – The Ohio National Guard, together with the Ohio Department of Health, Clinton County Health Department and CompuNet Clinical Laboratories will provide free health services this weekend in Wilmington, Ohio, through a cooperative program called GuardCare.

Services will be offered from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 9 and from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 10 at Southern State Community College, 1850 Davids Dr., Wilmington, Ohio 45177.

GuardCare is hosted each year in a different medically-underserved Ohio community and services are free to all Ohio residents who attend, regardless of income. The event also enhances the medical skills of Ohio National Guard medical personnel, many of whom work as health care professionals in their civilian occupations as well.

“We are very pleased to be able to bring medical services to the residents of Clinton County and Ohio,” said Maj. Gen. Deborah Ashenurst, Ohio adjutant general. “The men and women who fill the ranks of our medical units are among the best and brightest that Ohio has to offer. It is very encouraging to see those who work in professional patient care, donate their time to serve their country and their communities throughout Ohio.”

Free services will include physicals; infant, childhood and some adult immunizations; hearing, vision and dental screenings; HIV testing; mammograms; complete blood work profiles for those 18 years and older; thyroid testing; lead testing; electrocardiograms; and Pap tests. Minors must be accompanied by a parent or guardian or provide written consent. Some lab work requires 12-hour fasting.

Through GuardCare, Ohio National Guard medical personnel support and assist local health care providers; they do not replace them. The support meets an existing need and provides National Guard medical personnel with valuable and realistic training.

The Ohio National Guard initiated the GuardCare program in 1995 after Congress authorized the use of military personnel in medically-underserved communities as part of the Defense Department's Innovative Readiness Training (IRT) program.
