

Cpl. Richard Elliott

Battery C, 1st Battalion, 134th Field Artillery Regiment ~ Marysville

Elliott joined the National Guard not only to give back to the community, but to also help those in need. Growing up in Hardin County, Elliott now resides in Franklin County, where he works as a building materials manager for Menards. His civilian job was impacted by the coronavirus, as the volume of business and his work hours both decreased. “The most rewarding part of being activated is that I am seeing firsthand, people that benefit from the time and work what we have put in behind the scenes at the food bank.”

Cpl. Richard Elliott is supporting food packaging and distribution operations at the Southeast Ohio Foodbank

Ohioans serving Ohioans

Ohio National Guard Soldiers and Airmen are members of your community. They are local students, teachers, law enforcement, retail workers, business owners, your co-workers, family, friends and neighbors. When the Ohio National Guard responds to an emergency or natural disaster, it's Ohioans serving Ohioans right in their own communities. In this series, meet some of the front-line heroes serving during the current COVID-19 relief efforts, as well as a few of our members who've supported past humanitarian missions.