Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 237th Support Battalion ~ Cleveland

Francis has lived in Cuyahoga County for nearly half his life. He joined the Ohio National Guard “for a chance to serve my country and complete my education,” and is currently attending college. As a member of Task Force Workhorse, Francis is providing food packaging and distribution support to the Second Harvest Food Bank of North Central Ohio. Francis says the most rewarding part of supporting the food bank mission is “getting to see the faces of the families who have a level of food security because of the work we do. The gratefulness and joy I see is heart-warming and a great motivation for me.”

Pfc. Daniel Francis is supporting food packaging and distribution operations at Second Harvest Food Bank of North Central Ohio in Lorain, Ohio during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Ohioans serving Ohioans

Ohio National Guard Soldiers and Airmen are members of your community. They are local students, teachers, law enforcement, retail workers, business owners, your co-workers, family, friends and neighbors. When the Ohio National Guard responds to an emergency or natural disaster, it's Ohioans serving Ohioans right in their own communities. In this series, meet some of the front-line heroes serving during the current COVID-19 relief efforts, as well as a few of our members who've supported past humanitarian missions.
