

Spc. Jordan Morrow

Company B, 237th Support Battalion, ~ Youngstown

Morrow lives in Cuyahoga County. Like many others, Morrow joined the National Guard to support his local community and further his education. He currently a student at Cuyahoga Community College for physical therapy and worked as an after school child care coordinator, until he was laid off because of the schools shutting down due to the pandemic. During the COVID-19 pandemic, Morrow is providing food packaging and distribution support to the Second Harvest Food Bank of the Mahoning Valley in Youngstown, Ohio. He said the most rewarding part of the mission has been “to see the impact on the families that we are assisting.”

Ohioans serving Ohioans

Ohio National Guard Soldiers and Airmen are members of your community. They are local students, teachers, law enforcement, retail workers, business owners, your co-workers, family, friends and neighbors. When the Ohio National Guard responds to an emergency or natural disaster, it's Ohioans serving Ohioans right in their own communities. In this series, meet some of the front-line heroes serving during the current COVID-19 relief efforts, as well as a few of our members who've supported past humanitarian missions.
