

Cpl. Anthony Turos

Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, 1st Battalion, 134th Field Artillery Regiment ~ Delaware

Turos, who currently resides in Fairfield County and is a recent graduate of The Ohio State University, said joining the Ohio National Guard gave him a way to give back to his community. During the COVID-19 pandemic, Turos is providing food packaging and distribution support to the Urban Mission food pantry in Steubenville, Ohio. He said “the most rewarding part of this mission is being able to help the community.”

Cpl. Anthony Turos is supporting food packaging and distribution operations at the Urban Mission food pantry in Steubenville, Ohio during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Ohioans serving Ohioans

Ohio National Guard Soldiers and Airmen are members of your community. They are local students, teachers, law enforcement, retail workers, business owners, your co-workers, family, friends and neighbors. When the Ohio National Guard responds to an emergency or natural disaster, it's Ohioans serving Ohioans right in their own communities. In this series, meet some of the front-line heroes serving during the current COVID-19 relief efforts, as well as a few of our members who've supported past humanitarian missions.