APRIL 2010
NUMBER 6

YOUR OHIO NATIONAL GUARD IS PROVIDING SUPERIOR FAMILY SUPPORT:

Since Sept. 11, 2001, Ohio National Guard and Reserve forces have been called in record numbers to actively support both Operations Iraqi and Enduring Freedom. Across the nation, contributions of the reserve component account for nearly 35% of all deployed service members.

Increased operational demands accentuate the need for strong family bonds. Knowing that loved ones are being supported at home, allow service members to maintain focus while performing their missions abroad. Often, their families serve as a source of motivation and inspiration during deployment. The Ohio National Guard's Family Readiness Program prepares families for mobilizations and addresses their needs before, during and after deployments.

The Ohio National Guard's Family Readiness Program has developed resiliency programs such as: single service member and marriage enrichment retreats, strong family workshops and youth camps. All programs are open to service members and their families from any military branch.

The Family Readiness Program makes support readily available through ten Regional Family Assistance Centers located across the state. To provide support for service members' families, contact the Family Readiness Program Office at (800) 589-9914.
