NATIONAL FLAG, BATTERY H, 1ST REGIMENT, LIGHT ARTILLERY

Used by the battery prior to the War with Spain, this flag is marked with the unit designation. The modern Headquarters Battery, 1st Battalion, 134th Field Artillery Regiment is the lineal descendant of Battery H. When the 1st Regiment was organized in 1886, the 8th Battery in Columbus was redesignated as Battery H and remained as such until it converted to an infantry company in 1904. The unit returned to the artillery branch in 1910 as Battery C.
